Dear Sir/Ms:

The following question has been received:

Question: Exactly what is considered an off- road aerial lift? My company has an all-wheel drive bucket truck, is that considered an off-road aerial lift? Or are you talking about a tracked machine?

Response: Your all-wheel drive bucket truck is not considered an off road aerial lift, but may qualify as a bucket truck if it meets the height requirement. Examples of off-road aerial lifts include but are not limited to track mounted spider lifts and skidder or dozer mounted buckets.

Consider this information prior to submitting your bid on February 19, 2014.

Sincerely,

George M. A. Macdougall P.E.
